Students Can Help Find a New Dean

by Carolyn Greer

"A lack of student involvement has acquiesced student's rights to make decisions," said Burton Collins Director of the Placement Office. Mr. Collins pointed out that because of the lack of involvement on the part of students "others would exercise their rights and make choices for students."

Mr. Collins was a member of a task force that made recommendations regarding student affairs to the Provost.

The task force was formed in November of 1977 and ended in April of 1978. One of the recommendations made by the task force was to hire a Dean of Student Affairs.

"Students will be invited to participate in the selection of a Dean for Student Affairs," said Collins. He expressed concern that many students "will probably not take part in something that directly affects their life here at GSU."

"In the past students have taken little or no part in University Governance; take for instance the University Assembly (the governing body for GSU) many positions were not filled by students," continued Collins.

The search for a new dean will begin the 17th of July and end August 4th. Students are welcomed and encouraged to attend every interview of candidates for the position of Dean of Student Affairs. Students may make recommendations to Administration. Students will be listened to and should exercise their right.

Interview Schedule for Candidates

"Salaried Innovator Job Openings"

The Student Communications Media Board (SCMB) is looking for students to help run the Innovator during the coming academic year, beginning September 1.

All Innovator staff positions will be open for appointment, including editor-in-chief, managing editor, advertising manager, photo editor and copy editor. Some of these positions will be salaried; other -- including four reporters' posts -- will be funded by the work-study program. Non-salaried volunteers are also being sought.

If you are interested in being on the Innovator next year, leave a copy of your resume and samples of your work (if available) with Rhonda Guyness, secretary in the College of Cultural Studies, by 5 p.m. on Friday, July 28.

Voice your opinion in the Governance of GSU

Students, Faculty, Civil Service and support members will be able to vote on the proposed constitution for GSU on July 18, 19 and 20. The vote will take place in the Hall of Governors from 12 noon until 9:00 p.m. In order to pass the proposed constitution will need 200 student votes. The proposed constitution was printed in the last issue of the Innovator.

GSU Students Study Energy Costs of Homes

By Judy Dubridge

Selected homeowners living in Park Forest South and in the Lakewood subdivision of Richton Park will receive a free energy audit of their home through a program being offered by a group of students at Governors State University. These students have received a National Science Foundation grant to study the energy cost of housing.

Questionnaires will be mailed to the owners of single family homes during the month of July in order to assess their individual energy consumption practices. The energy audit will be based on the information collected. This audit will enable the owners to determine ways of reducing their energy consumption by improving the energy efficiency of their home.

Selected apartment dwellers will also receive questionnaires concerning their utility usage. Those responding will be given a summary of the report findings to help find ways to reduce their energy consumption.

The primary purpose of the study is to provide a standard for comparing the total energy cost of various types of housing. The resultant data will be useful to planners and builders in providing housing that will be more net energy efficient. Thus, the results of the study will prove valuable not only to the individual homeowner but to the community as a whole.

Last Day to Register in Advance

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.—A non-degree-seeking student-at-large may enroll at Governors State University.

Advance registration for the fall trimester will end August 15. The fall trimester is September 5-December 22, with classes for blocks 1 and 2 beginning September 5 and block 3 October 31.

Applicants for students-at-large should bring with them on the day of registration some evidence of their academic level:

- Undergraduate: Transcripts reflecting completion of 60 or more semester hours of undergraduate course work, or a diploma reflecting the award of an associate degree from an accredited institution.

- Graduate: Transcripts or a diploma reflecting the award of a bachelor's degree or a graduate degree from an accredited institution.

All credentials will be returned to the student immediately after verification. Once evidence of admissibility has been verified, it will not be necessary to provide such evidence for subsequent registrations as a non-degree-seeking student-at-large.

Non-degree-seeking students-at-large are eligible to register for any trimester or session. Admission counselors are available on campus.

Course work completed as a student-at-large is not automatically applicable to a degree program. The transfer of such courses is governed by policies established by the deans and faculty of each college.

Academic programs are offered by Governors State University in the areas of business, communication, counseling, culture and social science, environmental science, health science, humanities, psychology, public affairs, and teaching.

Designed for students who live at home, Governors State University was specifically mandated by the state to offer capstone programs for students who transfer from community colleges. Thus the university offers programs and courses only at the junior, senior, and graduate levels. GSU was fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in 1975.

Coming -- Police Management Seminar

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.—Management training seminars for police will be held by Governors State University.

South Suburban Association of Chiefs of Police will cooperate with the university's new Institute for Public Policy and Administration.

Dr. Peter W. Colby, director of the institute, said the seminars, which will begin in the near future, will be planned to meet the educational needs of police field supervisors and command personnel.

Seminar topics will include management-union relations, finance and budgeting, and human relations.

The South Suburban Association of Chiefs of Police will appoint members to an advisory council to choose seminar topics and recommend speakers.

Academic credit will be available.

Under sponsorship of the new Institute for Public Policy and Administration, a seminar "Making Government Work" was held with Cong. Edward J. Derwinski, Cong. Martin A. Russo, and Cong. George M. O'Brien speaking.

Attend a Women's Weekend Workshop

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.—A women's weekend workshop on identifying and achieving career and life goals will be held at Governors State University July 21-23.

The weekend with Kathryn Mondragon in room F-1104 will be July 21 from 7 to 10 p.m., July 22 from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., and July 23 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., under the auspices of the Governors State University Placement office and the Women's Resource center.

Registration will be limited to 20 women with a fee of $40. Registration may be made with Ms. Jean Dekker of the placement office, 312-534-5000, X2163.

Transportation Systems Module offered at GSU

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.—A full range of transportation problems in a regional intermodal context, such as the RTA, will be covered in an innovative transportation systems class at Governors State University.

Advance registration for the fall trimester at GSU will end August 15. The fall trimester is September 5-December 22, with classes for blocks 1 and 2 beginning September 5 and block 3 October 31.

Popular among undergraduates interested in both regional planning and business administration, the transportation systems learning module Thursdays from 7:30 to 10:20 p.m. will study how different modes of transportation interface with one another.

Included will be theoretical and applied study of current transportation problems through readings, seminars, and visits to Chicago area transportation facilities, such as the FAA control tower at O'Hare airport, Calumet harbor, and Illinois Central's intermodal freight system.

Transportation experts from government agencies and businesses will be guest lecturers.

Instructor is Paul A. Dillon, vice president and director of the economic research division, Mid-American Appraisal and Research corporation, Chicago. In addition to being a part-time community professor in the College of Environmental and Applied Sciences at GSU, he serves as an advisor to the Chicago area transportation study, the Northeastern Illinois Planning commission, the transportation committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, the Metropolitan Housing and Planning council of Chicago, the Illinois 2000 foundation, and the Transportation Research forum. Dillon was recently appointed by Gov. James Thompson to the Illinois Committee to Strengthen Community Economies.

Efraim Gil, university professor of environmental planning, is cooperating professor.

Distance Classic Attracts Thousands to "Run for Life"

by Leslie Faison

Sponsored by the Chicago Lung Association, the Chicago Distance Classic was run by over 8,200 participants Sunday, July 2, 1978.

A steady, semi-heavy rainfall did not dampen the spirits of eager men, women and youngsters who gathered as early as 6 o'clock at Monroe and Dearborn streets downtown. At 8 A.M. proceeding east to Lake Shore Drive, they jogged down the Drive to 51st Street, marking the halfway point. The returning route took runners behind McCormick Place and veered west through the Shedd Aquarium pedestrian overpass at Lake Shore and Columbus Drives. Buckingham Fountain was the finishing point that was reached by an overpass exit.

Fourteen categorical groups from 10 to over 70 years were represented. Randy Wix, the only one of four wheelchair entrants who showed up for the race was given a ten minute start and crossed the finish line. Ray Sears, a Chicagoan aged 70 who competed in Mayor Daley's first marathon and a ten-year old boy also completed the race.

The top ten were Garry Bjorklund (Minnesota), who was number 13 in the 1976 distance Olympic competition, (2) Paul Bammon (Canada), (3) Stan Mavis (Michigan), (4) Herb Lindsay (Michigan), (5) Dan Cloeter (Chicago), (6) Steve Flanagan (Michigan), (7) Gary Berrett (Illinois), (8) Anthony Rodriguez (Wisconsin), (9) Bob Gutjahr (Illinois) and (10) Dave Hoover (Illinois). The top woman, Kim Merritt, hailed from Racine, Wisconsin.

Number 7185, Louis Allen Davis, a Chicago masseuse-dance therapist and dancer who has run cross-country track since high school at Cregier, in 1977 continued training at Chicago State University under Coach S. Davis, competing in other events. Of the race, which he ran in 97 minutes, he said, "I was motivated for therapeutic reasons. Besides needing the exercise, I run for life, health and freedom of mind. I feel I gained more insight into my physical condition and endurance as an individual and experienced relaxation. Also, I have a deeper understanding of what I want to achieve as an artist."

He has studied the self-improvement-defense technique Taichi that, through meditation, stimulates mental processes and improves physical coordination. Mr. Davis hopes to compete in the 1980 Olympics and is seeking a sponsor. His residence is: 6317 N. Kenmore, Chicago, IL 60660.

Ms. Mary Edgren, Director of Communications for the Chicago Lung Association expressed appreciation. "We're happy because of the spirit that was involved, the recognition received and for contributions to help fight air pollution, lung diseases and smoking." Her organization offers lung disease prevention and smoking clinics and supports air-pollution legislation. According to computer readouts, Mrs. Edgren said close to 98 percent of those who started achieved the 12.4 mile (20 kilometers) distance. A $1,000 scholarship was awarded the best collegiate athlete.

Co-sponsors of the classic were: Chicago Tribune, Esmark, Inc., Pepsi-Cola General Bottlers, Inc., Schlitz Light and True Value Hardware Stores.

Running--Good Medicine For Everybody

by Jodi Nemeroff

The physiological and psychological aspects of distance running and its relationship to therapy will be the topic of discussion on Wednesday, July 26th at 7 p.m. by two graduate students in the Alcoholism Science Program.

Elaine Smith and her husband Gene, both runners, have been in the field of addiction treatment for 10 years. A "run to your life, not from your life." concept was introduced by them into the Alcohol and Drug Counselor Training Program in Fort Lyon, Colorado four years ago. This new method of therapy is effective because it gives the runner a natural euphoria that many drug abusers have tried to attain with destructive drugs. There are many parallels between running and drugs the Smiths point out. You can become mentally and physically addicted to running in about 3 months. There are certain withdrawal symptoms when you stop running.

One explanation why running is good medicine for addiction is that it takes away the physiologic symptoms of depression. This is half the battle. You cannot run and be depressed they profess. Running momentarily puts depression under control so you can deal with it.

The Smiths' talk is geared to show the whole family how to get into the act. Elaine will focus on women's running problems from the psychological aspects.

Gene is concerned that new runners are alerted to the dangers of running. For example, anyone over 35 should get a stress test before starting. Also, running when humidity is over 50 per cent is very bad. Heat is the runners worst enemy Gene cautioned. If you get heat stroke, "your brain cooks which results in brain damage." What really incenses him is seeing someone wearing a rubberized suit in the heat. "You could DIE. They should be outlawed!"

The Smiths' interest in giving a lecture is emanated by their concern for people. "Too many people now are running with little knowledge or caution." Running as a therapeutic modality has been researched and experimented with throughout the last 6 years by the couple with much promise. They will be starting their Ph.D. program on the West Coast in September.

The lecture, which is sponsored by Dr. Ben Lowe, author of "The Beauty of Sport" and Prof. at GSU, will cover the psychological and physiological areas of the sport, and treatment implementation with addiction, depression, anxiety, and hostility.

Demonstrations, pertinent data, and informative tips on how, why, and who can benefit, will be given. The lecture will be sophisticated and comprehensive" according to the Smiths, but will not be overly burdened with technical terminology, and will be held free of charge in Engbretson Hall.

Financial Aids Corner

Welcome Back Dorothy

by Sondra Ricciardi

Back from maternity leave, Dorothy Body resumes her duties as Administrative Clerk in the financial aids office. The clerical end of this office is its life blood. A well organized and well run clerical staff is vital to the proper functioning of this office.

As Administrative Clerk, Dorothy sees her main responsibilities as being: the Office Supervisor and to prepare folders for "Packaging". She reminds you not to confuse the duties of Office Supervisor, which she performs, with those of Steve Bellin who is Office Manager.

The Office Supervisor oversees the clerical staff. She is in charge of secretaries, two Comprehensive Educational Training Act positions, extra help-temporary, and work-study persons. It is her responsibility to trouble shoot, assign duties, and offer constructive criticism when necessary. Dorothy feels that one of her important functions is to build morale.

"Packing is another service in which she plays a vital part. David Weinberger, a secretary under her supervision, is in charge of seeing that all incoming forms find their proper place. Once this is done Dorothy is the final inspector. She is in charge of being certain all necessary forms are in a student's folder and that the checklist is complete. She then forwards it to the proper counselor to be approved and packaged.

Dorothy sees herself as being competent in a job where she enjoys the combination of manual duties and public contact. When asked how she gained the expertise to supervise in a manner that is assertive but fair, authoritative yet democratic, she said she learned from former supervisors. From some she learned by errors and from others by their good example.

In what capacity does she see herself relating to students. She is a primary problem-solver and mediator. She feels qualified to handle most student problems, but matters concerning rule negotiation must be referred to her supervisors.

You might wonder what the key to success is for this helpful lady. She says, "it is partly due to having fair supervisors who often accept her suggestions. Criticism is given in a supportive way and used as a learning experience". Most important of all, she feels "valued as an employee".

She is currently attending a junior college on a part time basis. Her long range goal is to earn a B.A. in Office Administration and an M.A. in Business Administration.

Her advise to students is to "be aware of deadline dates. Submit all forms early. Make sure they are complete and accurate. Follow up is very important. Call the office to check the status of your application."

YOU MAY BE ELIGIBLE FOR FINANCIAL AID! For information call 312-534-5000 Ext. 2161, 2162, or 2157.

Public Safety Dept will participate in Training

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.-The Department of Public Safety at Governors State University is participating in police radio communications training offered by the Cook County Sheriff's Police department.

More than 75 radio dispatchers from 26 law enforcement agencies are participating. For the second year, the Sheriff's Police Training academy is providing in-service training for suburban radio operators and dispatchers.

The radio operators work a 40-hour week at the Sheriff's Police Communications center side-by-side with a department trainer, who is an experienced Sheriff's Police communications officer.

The value of the program for a suburban agency's operator is the greater frequency and volume of radio traffic handled by the Sheriff's Police.

The radio operators also have a greater opportunity to utilize and to become more familiar with the computer systems.

New Contest:

Let's re-punctuate Governors State University

Rationale: Because the most popular error thus far is to add an apostrophe (Governor's) which indicates that this place belongs to a governor instead of being named in honor of all previous governors of the state, I hereby move that we re-punctuate Governors State University.

Sample Entries:

"A Modest Proposal"

Internal Politics of BPS.

Since John Rohr and others are proposing a "holiday" from Governance, I suggest the following for those who are sticking to the job:

- 1) All committees to meet in continuous session.
- 2) Collegial Assembly to meet daily.
- 3) All business to require a written motion, published in advance, with copies sent to the Acting Dean, the Dean nominee, the Chairperson of the University Assembly, the Provost and all other Vice Presidents, the BOG the BHE, FAZE I, the INNOVATOR, the Library of Congress and the Dempsty Dumpster.
- 4) All motions to require approval of 2-3 of those present and eligible to vote (as determined by BPS rules).
- 5) Haire system be used to count ballots.
- 6) All vote counts to be double checked by Governance and Faculty Affairs Committees.
- 7) A quorum for these purposes shall consists of any five willing BPS faculty.
- 8) Such persons shall be presumed to be sane, despite evidence to the contrary.

Dear Editor,

The article, "No Accreditation Status Judged For Nursing Program", published in the Innovator's June 19, 1978 issue was most interesting; however, I would like to make clarifications on some points.

The nursing programs, both the Baccalaureate and Masters, are accredited by the State of Illinois and by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Both programs are not accredited by the National League of Nursing (NLN), the highest accrediting body for nursing programs.

Opportunity-wise, graduates from the GSU present program can be employed in public or private institutions with the same benefits and privileges enjoyed by graduates from other nursing schools with NLN accreditation. Likewise, they may still be accepted into the graduate schools of some institutions of higher learning.

To update ourselves, the nursing faculty coordinated by a very dynamic and intellectual person, Diana Barhyte, R.N., Ph.D., is trying its best to push through for the accreditation as they are also concerned as we are.

Although the program was not accredited by NLN, I would like to take this opportunity to commend the nursing faculty's concern and effort. At this stage, we now know where GSU stands and where it goes. A plus for GSU, the nursing philosophy is one of the best I have read.

Respectfully submitted by:

To the Editor,

The Experiment in International Living needs host families in the south suburbs for about three weeks this summer, according to community coordinator Lucy Hamilton of Monee.

Incoming students, from a Japanese high school, will be in the area from late July to about mid-August, and would like to take part in everyday family activities. They do not wish to be entertained in the sense that we often think of. Nearly all the students have expressed interest in sports, and all have said they are simply interested in doing the kinds of things American families ordinarily do such as going to the grocery store, watching baseball games in our town, or walking around and exploring the area.

The experiment's headquarters are in Bratticboro, VI. Each year the program helps and homes for several thousand American and foreign high school and college students in other countries through its staff and thousands of volunteers.

Over 1977 families from Crete, United Kingdom, Steger, South Chicago Heights, Homewood, Flossmoor, Park Forest and Park Forest South and Monee were among the United States hosts.

A sleeping place and meals are to be provided by the host family. Medical insurance is carried by the Experiment.

Anyone willing to host or help with a study may call 3-255-8859.

News Briefs

B.O.G. may be for You

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.--Adults interested in obtaining a liberal arts degree may do so through the Board of Governors degree program at Governors State University.

Credit for evaluation of work-related life experience is available for many, as well as individualized career planning and guidance. Enrollment in the program is totally individualized.

Persons interested may telephone the B.O.G. office at Governors State University for information. The phone number is 312-534-5000, X2515.

The primary intent of the Board of Governors degree program is to make college education available to adults in a way that is compatible with their life style and responsibilities, and to recognize that college-equivalent learning and skills can be achieved in a great variety of ways.

With this in mind, the two key features of the B.O.G. degree program that set it apart from others is its flexibility and the fact that adults can receive credit toward degree completion by evaluation of their adult learning experience (life experience) that is college equivalent.

Robert L Milam named as new Dean for B.P.S.

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.--Reporting August 1 will be the new dean of the College of Business and Public Service at Governors State University.

He is Dr. Robert L. Milam of Norristown, Pa., director and professor of management and economics in the School of Business Administration of Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science.

The announcement was made May 18.

Acting dean has been Dr. Ralph J. Winston, university professor of accounting and business. Dr. Ruben V. Austin, former dean, is university professor of economics.

Dr. Milam before going to Philadelphia in 1970 was with Westminster College of New Wilmington, Pa.; North Carolina State University at Raleigh; University of Kentucky at Lexington; Barren County high school at Glasgow, Ky.; Ford Motor Company at Louisville, Ky., and the Army.

His published and unpublished research includes "The Antagonistic Relationship Between Teaching and Research," "Distribution of the National Income," and "The Welfare Implications of Public Versus Private Outdoor Recreation," all in progress; "An Analysis of the Demand for Selected Golfing Services in the North Carolina Piedmont," Ph.D. dissertation, and "The Economic Importance of Recreational Facilities and Related Services to Kentucky Farmers," M.S. thesis.

Dr. Milam received his bachelor of science degree with honors and master of science from University of Kentucky. His doctor of philosophy, with a major in economics and minors in statistics and minors in statistics and agricultural economics, is from North Carolina State University.

Academic programs will be offered in many areas for the fall trimester at Governors State University: Business, communication, counseling, culture and social science, environmental science, health science, humanities, psychology, public affairs, and teaching.

Advance registration for the fall trimester will end August 15.

The fall trimester is September 5-December 22, with classes for blocks 1 and 2 beginning September 5 and block 3 October 31.

Advance registration is a process that allows students to select learning modules with reasonable assurance that they will be enrolled in their primary selections in advance of regular registration.

Students who participate in advance registration will have priority over all students who register later, and participants will usually find the entire registration process relatively quick and easy.

Illinois Nurse Elected to National Advisory Panel

Annie L. Lawrence, president of the Illinois Nurses' Association, as elected vice-chairperson of the American Nurses' Association Advisory Council during ANA's convention in Hawaii June 9-14.

The Advisory Council is made up of executive directors and presidents of ANA's 53 constituent state and territorial organizations. The council advises the ANA Board of Directors on matters involving nursing education, practice, standards and certification.

Mrs. Lawrence was elected president of the Illinois Nurses' Association for a two-year term from 1977 to 1979. She has been professor of nursing at Governors State University since October 1977. Before that she was nursing education coordinator, Illinois Department of Registration and Education.

Mrs. Lawrence received her nursing diploma from Freedmen's Hospital, Washington, D.C., and her bachelor and master's degrees in nursing education administration from DePaul University, Chicago.

The Illinois Nurses' Association has 10,500 registered nurse members.

Mrs. Lawrence lives at 448 East 89th St., Chicago.

Seven Professors Receive Faculty Merit Awards

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.--Faculty merit awards for the 1977-78 academic year have been made to seven professors at Governors State University:

- Dr. Vinicio H. Reyes, university professor of urban teacher education, College of Human Learning and Development.
- Dr. Sandra Whitaker, university professor of behavioral studies, College of Human Learning and Development.
- Dr. Peter W. Colby, university professor of public service, College of Business and Public Service.
- Dr. Roger Oden, university professor of political science, College of Cultural Studies.
- Dr. Melvin M. Muchnik, university professor of communications, College of Cultural Studies.
- Dr. Daniel J. Casagrande, university professor of earth science, College of Environmental and Applied Sciences.
- Dr. Sang-O Rhee, university professor of health sciences, College of Environmental and Applied Sciences.

The faculty merit award committee, composed of faculty and administration, makes the awards on the basis of recommendations by collegial deans.

Louis Mule is Outstanding

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.--Honored as "Outstanding Young Man of America" is a Governors State University professor.

Environmentalist and historian Louis Mule received the award endorsed by the United States Jaycees and presented annually to men who make their communities better places to live.

For Mule, the honor represents eight years of achievements.

He has received from the Environmental Protection agency an environmental quality award in environmental education.

The recipients of the "Outstanding Young Men of America" awards, whose names will appear in the 1978 program edition, were selected from nominations received from senators, congressmen, governors, mayors, state legislators, university and college administrators, and civic leaders.

Dial 0033 for Information

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.--Employee positions open at Governors State University are announced on the recorded "info line" 312-534-0033 at the university.

For the university's commuter students, community friends, and news media, the "info line" is three years old and primarily carries upcoming events at GSU.

Emergency announcements, such as university closing because of weather conditions, are also carried.

Changed frequently, and with a maximum of three minutes' recorded time available, the "info line" is in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week out of the office of university relations.

Commuter students at Governors State University also get news on bulletin boards, through limited student mailboxes and class announcements, and in the student newspaper Innovator and external public news media.

Summer Theatre will present "The Beauty of Dreaming Wood"

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.—Based on the "Sleeping Beauty" legend, "The Beauty of the Dreaming Wood" will be at Governors State University Saturdays, July 22 and 29, at 2:30 p.m. and Sundays, July 23 and 30, at 7 p.m.

Ticket reservations may be made by telephoning 312-534-5000, X2119 or 2449. Admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for students, senior citizens, and GSU Alumni association members.

"The Beauty of the Dreaming Wood" was written at the suggestion of William B. Birner, theater director at Ohio University. He asked the author, Marion Jonson, for a play which would keep the pageantry of the traditional "Sleeping Beauty" story but would appeal to the modern child.

The original legend has been retold in countless versions in many languages, and also has been made into a popular ballet. It tells of a beautiful princess who, cast under a spell by a spiteful fairy, must lie in a deathlike sleep in a castle surrounded by a seemingly impenetrable forest, to be awakened only by the kiss of a king's son at the end of a hundred years.

The Jonson version is filled with mirth and merriment: Fairy godmothers with humorous and distinct personalities, magic spells that work and a few which don't, a trumpeter who blasts away on and off cue, "Beauty" who discovers that she must dream her own way of awakening from her deep sleep.

Marion Jonson trained at Goodman Memorial theater, Chicago, one of the pioneers of children's theater in the U.S.A.

She has been director of the Portland Civic Theater school and Junior theater in Oregon, and is, at present, a director of the Apprentice theater for young people, and she has taught drama in schools and colleges. She also writes educational radio scripts. Among her other plays are "Greensleeves' Magic," "Island of the Winds," and "Timblewit."

Director Temmie Gilbert, of the College of Cultural Studies at Governors State University, and her associate designers have chosen to present "The Beauty of the Dreaming Wood" in the style of Art Nouveau, the decorative art of the 1890's. Line became the most important aspect of Art Nouveau design, and the importance of shape and texture of an object replaced the over-decoration of the Victorian period.

The design contains rhythmic lines, flowing patterns and abstract, stylized floral design. Colors are soft, smoky hues of green, mauve, turquoise, gold, brown, etc. The patterns show quality of line, delicacy, vitality, free imagination, and fantasy.

A special and original score has been written by Richard McCreary of the Governors State University music department to augment the direction. It is done electronically, but still captures the essence and flavor of the traditional legend.

The 22 members of the cast come from Chicago Heights, Country Club Hills, Flossmoor, Frankfort, Homewood, Kankakee, Lake Lynwood, Lansing, Monee, Park Forest, Park Forest South, Peotone, Robbins, St. Anne, and Sauk Village.

Singing Outdoors.

The Park Forest Singers will give their first outdoor presentation, An Evening Outdoors, on Sunday, July 23, at 7:00 p.m. the James Maros Amphitheatre adjacent to Freedom Hall.

In case of rain, the concert will be held in the Nathan Manilow Theatre at Freedom Hall.

According to conductor Sandra Chabot, "The program is truly a summertime delight — featuring selections from George Gershwin's Porgy and Bess, Vaughn Williams' Serenade to Music, and Borodin's Polovetzian Dances. There will also be a bit of midsummer madness with P.D.Q. Bach's The Seasonings."

Jim Murvihill's Summer Orchestra, comprised of members from area symphonies, will perform in conjunction with the Park Forest Singers.

The soloists for the Vaughn Williams' selections are sopranos, Diana Baley, Joan Hopkins, Linda Mack and Janet Rinehart; alto, Sara Schutte; tenor, Herb Nottelmann; and bass, Charles Schutte and Paul Jung.

The octet for P.D.Q. Bach is sopranos Julie Lacey and Coleen Larson; altos, Pat Gardner and David Brunner; tenor, Bernice Rice; and Bass, Gene Hirschberg and Paul Jung.

The audience is encouraged to arrive early with picnic suppers. There will be an old fashioned lemonade stand which will provide refreshments at intermission.

Tickets for "An Evening Outdoors" are $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for senior citizens and students. Ticket information may be obtained by phoning Freedom Hall at 747-0580.

Something about the Artist

HYSER DON WALKER

Originally from Evanston, Illinois, Don Walker was formerly with the Ramsey Lewis family. He was with the "Young Holt Trio" and then "Young Holt Unlimited", as a keyboard - arranger. After several years of successful studio work, Don Walker then formed "Complete Expressions Trio". This collaboration produced two albums on the Brunswick label and several tours throughout the United States. While playing with "Elde Young Trio" in 1977 at Chicago's "Back Room", Walker enlarged his own group to a five piece unit. Appearances at the Ritz Carlton, the Park West, Happy Medium, and Ratso's have produced the highly acclaimed Hyser Don Walker Quintet.

Tryouts

PARK FOREST SOUTH, Ill.—Tryouts for the play, "The Dirty Old Man," will be at Governors State University July 18-20.

The tryouts for a cast of two males and one female will be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the drama workshop. One male is 50 to 65 years old, the other male and the female are 17 to 19 years old.

The play will be directed by Mel M. Slott.

Produced off Broadway, "The Dirty Old Man" is a sensitive and deeply affecting study of the chord of understanding and sympathy which can exist between youth and old age.

Production dates will be August 18-19 and 25-26, with curtain time 8 p.m.

Reservations for seats may be made by telephoning 312-534-5000, X2449 or 2119.

Jazz Residency to be Established

PARK FIREST SOUTH, Ill.—A jazz residency will be established at Governors State University with a $28,000 grant from the National Foundation for the Arts.

Two or three professional jazz groups will spend separate one-week residency periods in November, May, and-or June on the campus, according to Dr. Warrick L. Carter, university professor of music in the College of Cultural Studies.

Jazz artists under consideration are:
- Elvin Jones, quartet
- Clark Terry, quintet
- Thad Jones-Melvin Lewis, bass and piano

- Billy Taylor, trio
- Gary Burton, quartet
- Bill Cobham, quartet
- Bill Watrus, rhythm section
- Donald Byrd, rhythm
- Max Roach, quartet

The artists will conduct clinics, master classes, perform with students, and present a concert at the conclusion of the week.

The May period will coincide with the annual GSU junior College Jazz festival. June residency will be the last week of a two-week high school camp.

It is estimated that 700 students will receive direct benefit from the clinics, master classes, etc., and that more than 5,000 others will benefit from the concerts.

Over the last six years, Governors State University has sponsored a variety of jazz-related activities through its jazz program and student activities office.

Included have been the country's only Junior College jazz festival, and concerts and clinics by professional and student groups. Many outstanding artists have given concerts and-or clinics.

Dr. Carter said:
"Although each of our endeavors has been successful, the impact they have had in raising the creative abilities of students in the area is at best minimal.

"As the only university in the entire south suburbs of Chicago GSU has a personal commitment as well as a mandate to serve the south side and suburbs of greater Chicago.

"The GSU jazz program aims to meet this mandate by providing high quality jazz performances, and by offering the opportunity for students to engage in an intense learning situation with some of the profession's most outstanding performers.

"Because of our location, significant minority participation is guaranteed."

JobMart

The postings in the "Job Mart" are for GSU students and alumni who are REGISTERED WITH THE UNIVERSITY PLACEMENT OFFICE. We will be happy to furnish information if you will come into the Placement Office and present the Job Number shown above the position in which you are interested. If you have a completed and up to date credential file in the Placement Office but it is impossible for you to get into our office during office hours, please contact Mr. Burton Collins or Mrs. Mary Hughes at Extension 2142-A

Are you a teacher still looking for a contract for 1978-79? There are schools in Illinois still recruiting for teachers. Wouldn't it be great to get teachers and school hiring personnel together in one place? IASCUS is an organization that is putting this idea into action. You can participate by contacting the Placement Office, 534-5000 Ext. 2163-4. Ask for Mary Hughes. The day is August 1, and the place is Glen Ellyn. The time is 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. A van will leave GSU promptly at 8:00 a.m. Be sure to have your resume' handy. This is for both secondary and elementary teachers.

"Empowerment: Identifying and Achieving Career and Life Goals" is the title of a week-end with Kathryn Mondragon. Just for women, the workshop uses small group dynamics to give professional individualized attention to each participant. Kathryn Mondragon combines T.A. with assertive training and the job hunting techniques of Richard Bolles to identify goals and implement life objectives. The week-end is July 21, 22, and 23 at Governors State University. Registration is $40.00, and limited to the first 20 women who contact Jean Dekker, Placement Office, 534-5000, Ext. 2163-4. This workshop is jointly sponsored by the Placement Office and the Women's Resource Center.
